Profile Summary

Hello, I am Engineer Rajaei, a back-end web developer specializing in Laravel. For the front-end, I work with React or Laravel's native tools like Livewire and Filament. I've been in love with computers since I was about 12. I started with Arduino and C++, then picked up Java and Python. But when I turned 16, I decided to focus on one area professionally. I joined a PHP back-end bootcamp hosted at Ferdowsi University of Mashhad. That's where my specialized journey as a Laravel back-end developer began, and I gradually started taking on projects. In the early days, I mostly handled lighter tasks—debugging and customizing existing projects. Later on, I started taking on full, from-scratch projects as a full-stack web developer. That brought much bigger challenges and helped me gain valuable new skills and experience.

I try to learn something every day. My first love is computer science, followed by physics and mathematics. I'm passionate about reading English books and articles, both online and in print. God willing, I plan to seriously dive into studying artificial intelligence in the future, since it has a tremendously bright future.

And in short, I've come to believe:

"Developing isn't Typing."

I made my website with ❤️. Please check it.

Projects

Nooshejan

For: Personal

October 2025

A project for connecting restaurants to pesople, I had experienced many challenges e.g. live chat with clients, handling live features for tracking, frontend best UI UX kits involves ShadcnUI, Lucide Icons, Tailwindcss.

For API used Axios + SWR in React.

Restful API in backend with Laravel + Redis + reverb.

Broker

For: A man from Tehran

May 2024

This project was my first fully projects and so much complicated. I have experienced for first time hard challenges especially finance e.g. wallets and ACID transactions, live support, live features,...

I implemented this with Laravel + Filament + Livewire.

Paramm

For: A man from Tehran

June 2024

A platform for therapy people online involves some courses and live meeting or sessions with clients.

It had some challenges for live meeting connection with websockets or UDP protocol, live chats and supports,...

I used Laravel for Rest-API, Reverb for web socket, React for front.
